

Rabbits

Rabbits are small animals that live in large groups but can also be kept as pets, usually in a hutch. They have long ears and large feet. A male rabbit is called a buck and a female rabbit is called a doe. When a baby rabbit is born, it does not have any fur! Rabbits like to eat vegetables, especially carrots and lettuce.

Rabbits can be lots of different colours. Wild rabbits are often brown but pet rabbits can vary from bright white to dark black. Their soft fur helps them to keep warm. They also have sharp nails which they use for digging.

Rabbits have really strong legs. They can jump up to one metre in the air. They use their strong legs to jump and hop around.
