

Young Paul Klee

Paul Klee was born in Switzerland on 18th December 1879.

He was the son of a musician and Paul learned how to play the violin as a young boy. He was very talented and was offered a place to play with a special orchestra.

When he was a teenager, Paul decided he didn't want to study music anymore. His parents were disappointed but agreed that he could study art instead.

Key vocabulary : Switzerland learned talented art